

Glenda McLoughlin

IAC Member

Glenda is a corporate financier, investor and company director with over 30 years of experience. She is currently CEO of her own advisory and investment business Maxa Capital. Glenda has previously held senior positions with major investment banks Credit Suisse First Boston, Morgan Stanley (in Melbourne and Singapore) and Barclays Capital, the latter as Head of its Energy & Infrastructure Group.

Subsequently she was a foundation Director, CFO and Company Secretary of Metgasco. She was previously also a Director of Senex Energy Limited (Chair of its Finance and Audit Committee) and is currently a Director (and Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee) of AnteoTech, a Brisbane-based company listed on the ASX and working in the battery chemical and diagnostic solutions space. She is also currently Chair of the Board of Redlands School in Sydney, and has previously been a non-executive director of the National Art School.

Glenda holds the degree of Bachelor of Economics from the University of Tasmania, an MBA from the Australian Graduate School of Management at the University of New South Wales and is a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

